THE LAW.

PHILIP ENGEL ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

How the Jury Reached Its Conclusion—Important Street-Improvement Case—The Lancaster Constable on Trial—Merrick Reynolds Will Fight—The Piano Stealer Confesses.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the jury in the Engel murder case announced that it had agreed upon a verdict. A messenger was sent for Judge McKinley, and the defendant was brought into court. He maintained the stoical manner which has characterized him during the trial. No one was present except Stephen M. White, Esq., of counsel for the defense, Mr. Hardesty and the officers of the court. The verdict, not guilty, was read, and the defendant discharged. A slight expression of relief passed over the face of the defendant, but the trying scenes through which he has passed since the day he shot Charles Curtis seem to have numbed the man. He sat quite still for a minute or so, and then quietly passed out to seek his wife, who was waiting for him at the office of Mr. Burdette. Their meeting was very affecting. The admirable conduct of Mrs. Engel during the trial was one of the sources of the strength of his defense. The strain upon her nervous system told greatly upon her strength, and yesterday she was almost prostrated. Her clear and touching recital of the awful incidents of the shooting of her brother by her husband was marked by no manifestation of bitter feeling, or of partiality for one or the other. Fortunately for Philip Engel she is a clear-headed woman, with unusual powers of observation, and there was but little doubt, as she told the story of the tragedy, that he could not be convicted of murder.

The jury upon the first ballot, Monday afternoon, stood 10 for acquittal, 1 for conviction as charged and 1 for manslaughter. Upon the second ballot it stood 10 for acquittal and 2 for manslaughter, and after that it stood 11 for acquittal and 1 for manslaughter, until yesterday morning, when the last man came over, and an agreement was reached. Mrs. Engel remained in attendance in an adjoining room Monday night until after 10 o'clock, when the jury was taken to a lodging-house for the night.

A STREET-IMPROVEMENT CASE.

A decision was rendered yesterday, by Judge Shaw, in Department No. 5 of the Superior Court, in the case of Charnock et al. vs. the City of Los Angeles, by which he granted an injunction to restrain the city from proceeding with the grading, graveling and curbing of South street, between Brooklyn and Wabash avenues, and the laying of cement sidewalks. The City Council passed the ordinance last January, in the face of a protest from Charles and J. F. Charnock, C. J. Richards and L. S. Sherman, owners of 2900 feet frontage, a majority. The contract was let to the Gray Bros. Artificial Stone Paving Company and F. N. Townsend, at $4.47 per lineal foot. The protestants then applied to the courts for an injunction.

Judge Shaw handed down quite a long opinion in deciding the case, in which he reviews the action of the Council and the provisions of the Yroon Act, under which the proceedings were instituted. In the course of the opinion he says:

In this proceeding the initiatory step was a petition to the Council signed by a majority of the owners. Afterward, and within the time limited for the passage of the resolution of intention, a protest, also signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage, was duly delivered to the Clerk of the Council. This was signed by all of the persons who had previously signed the petition and without their names would not have had a majority of the frontage. It is contended by the defendant that the provisions of section 3 of the act concerning the protest of a majority of the frontage against the work, and the consequent stay of proceedings for six months, have no application to a proceeding begun by the petition under section 4.

I am of the opinion that this is the correct interpretation of the act.

After discussing the bearing of the different sections of the act upon the manner in which work may be begun and stopped, the gist of the points at issue are thus summed up:

It is my opinion that the petition mentioned in section 4 is intended to take the place of the resolution of intention required by section 3, and that when the proceeding is begun by the proper petition, no resolution of intention is necessary, but the notice of intention must be the intention to do the work mentioned in the petition, and the provisions of section 3 as to stay of proceedings on objections by petition under section 4.

This, however, leads to another consideration which is fatal to the proceedings. When the proceeding is by petition the work ordered to be done must correspond in all respects to the work described in the petition. The Council in such a proceeding can order to be done only the work mentioned in said petition. (Section 4.)

The petition in question makes no mention of cement curbs. Yet the order provides for cement curbs, and also that the work shall be done according to special plans on file. What these plans are the evidence fails to show. But the Council could not deviate from the work mentioned in the petition. It follows that the order is illegal and void. It is true the Council did pass a resolution of intention. And if the proceeding was sufficient under sections 2 and 3, then the petition mentioned in section 4 would be regarded as immaterial. But if we treat it as a proceeding under sections 3 and 4, then the written objections of the majority of the frontage owners would stop proceedings and the contract was prematurely let.

In either event the work must stop and the injunction must be granted.

THE LANCASTER CONSTABLE.

The trial of Joseph Johnson, Constable at Lancaster, Soledad township, upon a charge of permitting prisoners to escape, was begun yesterday before Judge McKinley. The offense with which Johnson is charged is a felony, and should be convicted he could be sent to the penitentiary for 10 years, and a fine of $5000 could be imposed, that being the maximum punishment.

It will be remembered that Johnson was bringing some "vagrants" prisoners to the city, and it is alleged, allowed two of them to swap places with men not convicted, but wishing to get to Los Angeles, and who were willing to serve a 15 days' sentence for vagrancy to accomplish their purpose. Such is the charge. Several of the "vagrants" brought down have long since served out their terms in the County Jail, but have nevertheless been detained there ever since, about three months, by the prosecution, under the order that they should be sure to be present as witnesses against the defendant.

The manner in which the case was discovered was the subject of great interest at San Fernando of John Thomas, a colored boy, one of the escaped prisoners. He was run in from there as a vagrant, and when he was lodged in the County Jail, his fellow-prisoners thought it too good a joke to keep.

taining a jury, and the courtroom was crowded with people from Lancaster. The defendant is represented by Messrs. Shinn and Long, and the prosecution by Mr. Hardesty. John Thomas was the first witness and said in substance that he was arrested November 22d at Lancaster by Constable Johnson. He and some other "boys" had a fire, and the arrest was made on the ground that they had been burning some shingles. They were taken over to Justice Hall's blacksmith shop, which was also his office, and there, after an exceedingly informal trial, the witness was sentenced to 15 days for vagrancy. John Thomas asked Johnson if he could not get the "Squire" to lighten his sentence, when the Constable replied that he could not, but suggested that if the witness could trade with one of the other boys it would be all right. John Thomas called Charles Raymond to one side and the latter agreed to take his place as John Thomas. He then reported the deal to Constable Johnson, who said it was satisfactory.

When the gang of prisoners was taken to the depot, the witness was told to go back to the toolhouse, and did go. The train soon came along, and the bogus John Thomas went with the Constable. He remained all day in Lancaster, and then moved on, only to be arrested at San Fernando and brought in upon another justice's decree that he had no visible means of support, and must serve the county by being imprisoned, and fed at his expense for five days.

The defense endeavored to get the witness to admit that a saloon-keeper named Morris, at Lancaster, put up a job with him, Constable Johnson, and that the charge against the defendant is a false one, but John Thomas stoutly stuck to his story.

Another of the "vags" named Nolan was examined, and his statements were similar to those made by the colored boy. He created considerable amusement by his description of his trial before Justice Hall. When asked how he was tried, he said he was taken into the blacksmith shop, where the Justice of the Peace looked at him, and without any tedious details remarked, "Fifteen days," and that was all there was of it.

The other witnesses for the prosecution testified to about the same facts, and when court adjourned for the day, it stood 10 for conviction and 2 for acquittal. The trial will be resumed this morning.

MERICK REYNOLDS.

It was learned yesterday that Merick Reynolds, late manager of the San Pedro Lumber Company, against whom suit for $65,000 has been brought by the company for alleged shortage in his accounts, proposes to fight the case to the bitter end. John A. Fille was made a defendant in the action with Reynolds by reason of his having acquired title to some stock formerly held by Reynolds. The defendant denies that his accounts have been short, and that he has been guilty of embezzlement, and alleges that it is an attempt to extort from him defalcations made by the company's former bookkeeper, C. K. Drane, whom, he says, was put in charge of the books without his advice while retaining against his protest. The trial of the case will, without doubt, prove highly sensational.

A PIANO STEALER.

In Judge McKinley's court yesterday afternoon a grand larceny case was begun and disposed of in a very few minutes. A few days ago an account was given in THE TIMES of the stealing of a piano from A. G. Gardner by a young man named B. B. Owen, the instrument being valued at $300. Yesterday afternoon the case was tried by Judge McKinley, and the defendant, B. B. Owen, was found guilty of grand larceny. He was arraigned, and his attorney waived time for pleading, the defendant pleading guilty. This morning he will be sentenced. His attorney stated in open court that he had been in consultation with the District Attorney, and the matter had been arranged that Owen should plead guilty to grand larceny. He was then remanded to custody.

THE "BONE" JANTOR AND OTHER MATTERS.

The examination of William E. Dusey, formerly janitor at the Tribune office, upon a charge of forging Cashier Smith's name to a money order for $5.50 and collecting the same at the postoffice, will take place tomorrow morning before United States Commissioner Van Dyke at 10 o'clock.

A condemnation suit brought by the Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale Railway Company against Mr. W. W. Kyns of Pasadena, was on trial all day yesterday before Judge Shaw. The plaintiff is suing for right of way through property of the defendant for the new line of road between this city and Pasadena. A large number of witnesses were examined on both sides during the day in an attempt to get at a fair estimate of the amount which should be paid the defendant. The estimates ranged from one hundred and fifty dollars to five hundred dollars. The trial will be resumed this morning.

SETTLED BY MARRIAGE.

Several days ago a complaint was filed in Justice Savage's court by a young woman named Maria Robles charging J. S. Redona with having seduced her under promise of marriage last August. Yesterday was the day set for the examination, but before the time for the case to be called had arrived the girl and the defendant called upon Justice Savage and requested him to solemnize the marriage ceremony for them. They were married, and the case was thus summarily brought to an end. The girl is only 17 years of age, and as a result of the intimacy with Redona is in a delicate condition.

NEW SUITS.

Suit for foreclosure of a mortgage was begun yesterday by Frank Friedman against D. C. Wilson et al. The amount of judgment asked being $500. H. Susskind began suit against Charles E. While working in the removal of a derailed car, he alleges that it fell upon him by reason of defective chains and appliances, seriously and permanently injuring him.

Complaint on the foreclosure of a trust deed was filed yesterday by E. F. Spence and George H. Donebrake, trustees, against the East Spring Water Company. The complaint alleges that the trustees bring suit for R. A. Ling, Esq., the holder of bonds of the company to the amount of $6200.

R. L. Horton began suit against Y. Gallardo to foreclose a mortgage securing a promissory note for $400.

C. C. Jaxheimer was relieved of the charge of embezzlement in Justice Savage's court yesterday by the evidence of experts, who testified that a box of carpenter's tools, which he is charged with appropriating, is worth less than fifty dollars. The complaint against him was dismissed, with the intimation that a new complaint charging a lesser offense will be filed.

Judge Cheney held court a short time yesterday morning for Judge Wade, who is absent in Oakland.

NOTES.

The foreclosure suit of Mills vs. Wright, involving property near Redondo Beach, was on trial before Judge Clark yesterday, quite an array of counsel appearing in the case. Stephen M. White, Esq., and R. H. F. Variel, Esq., represent the plaintiff, and Messrs. Bismell & Denis and Messrs. Mulford, Wilson & Bulla, the defendant.

ALL ABOUT NERVOUSNESS.

An Insidious Disease Which Destroys Its Thousands.

Nervousness, or nervous weakness, is a disease of comparatively modern growth. It loves a brilliant mark, and the best and brightest men and women of our land become its prey. There are many causes which bring it on—overwork, worry, improper food, exposure, over-indulgence in alcoholic beverages or tobacco, and excesses of different kinds.

Nothing presents a more pitiable sight than a person suffering from serious nervous prostration. The mind becomes weak and forgetful; the patient cannot sleep, and there are terrible pains in the head. Feelings of despondency or depression are ever present; there is a restlessness of the eyes, and a disinclination to meet people; the features become pale, careworn, and haggard; the muscles weak and flabby, and there is a general sense of being unfit for anything.

Some of our most distinguished people have trod this awful road which ends in paralysis, apoplexy, paresis, Tremaine, death. Happily a cure has at last been discovered for this fearful disease. An eminent medical gentleman, professor in Dartmouth College has made a discovery which will bring happiness to many a heart. It is called Pain's Celery Compound, and is nature's own restorative for weakened nervous power. Under its invigorating and health-giving action, the mind will soon regain its vigor; the eyes will sparkle as of old, the muscles become firm, the nerves strong, the blood will pulsate rapidly and steadily, and the tide of health will come back again.

This reliable preparation treats an appetite, gives sound sleep and as yet is the only known remedy for nervous diseases. If your head aches or you feel worn, do not delay the use of this true strengthener.

New York, Feb. 25.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Tribune writes: A final decision has at last been reached by the imperial government for a trans-Siberian railway. The work of construction will be begun at once, and pushed vigorously to completion. Surveys have been made with sufficient accuracy to determine the most practicable route, and also to indicate the cost and the time required for the enterprise. Gen. Annatoff, builder of the trans-Caspian road, reckons that the entire line to Vladivostok will cost less than two hundred million dollars, and through trains from the Baltic to the Pacific can be run within five or six days. A highly important consideration of this matter is the colonization of the country along the Amur River.

Besides its vast agricultural possibilities, the region is exceedingly rich in precious minerals. For years it has been known to contain some of the richest deposits of gold in the world, and vast stores of gems have also been taken from the mines. All this region and its products belong to the Russian crown; but it borders on the northern part of China, and the boundary line is ill-guarded. The result is that Chinese swarms across by thousands, and really are securing the lion's share of the spoil.

There is still another immense advantage to be secured to Russia by the construction of the railway, and that is the trade of the Pacific Ocean. At present this traffic reaches Europe almost exclusively by English routes. The Northern Pacific trade is carried across America by the Canadian and United States Pacific railways and shipped to Europe by Atlantic lines. The trade of the central part of the coast finds its way to Europe by English routes through the Suez Canal. With the opening up of China and Japan to commerce, this trade is enormously increasing in importance, and it is to capture a portion of it that Russia now aims. The Pacific terminus of the road will be at Vladivostok.

There will presently be running another road from some point in China to Vladivostok, which will connect to the line of traffic of China. Steamship lines will also connect it with all important Chinese and Japanese ports. Thence transit across the Russian Empire to Europe will be much easier, quicker and cheaper than by the American route. In point of time it will have an advantage of at least a week. It will also avoid the risks and unpleasantness of voyages across two oceans, and will require far less handling and reshipment of goods. Whether or not it is true that sea voyage impairs the quality of tea, here, at any rate, there will be a possibility of conveying all the tea of China to Europe geriatric.

THE BERING SEA QUESTION.

Russia Will Take a Hand in the Negotiations.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Baron de Struve, Russian Minister at Washington, has been instructed to present the views of his government on the pending Bering Sea negotiations at Washington, particularly touching the protection of seals during the breeding season.

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—Sir John Macdonald announced in the Commons that C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, at the request of the British Minister, has gone to Washington to assist in negotiations for the settlement of the Bering Sea dispute. Mitchell, member of the Opposition, called attention to a Washington dispatch, saying that England had abandoned her convictions in the Bering Sea matter, on condition of compensation for last season's seizures. He thought England dilatory in asking for a Canadian representative at the last moment, and that Tupper was not well qualified to represent Canada.

Sir John Macdonald expressed confidence in Tupper. He asserted that negotiations thus far at Washington are purely preliminary and no settlement is reached.

UNRULY DEPUTIES.

New Method of Securing Order in the French Chamber.

Paris, Feb. 25.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The Chamber of Deputies today made a new rule for the government of its proceedings with particular reference to recalcitrant deputies, who, being called to order, decline to take their seats or otherwise insolently defy the command of the speaker, so that the authority of the House as represented by the Speaker is seldom respected unless actual force is applied to the trouble. The rule reached a climax in the recent revolt of the Boulangers, who practically made a riot in the House. The new rule affixes a penalty for every refusal on the part of a member to obey an order of the President. The penalty is that the member be suspended during 30 sessions of the Chamber. This new rule was voted by 277 to 256.

IN A DILEMMA.

The Parnell Report a Boomerang to the Tories.

London, Feb. 25.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Cobb, Radical member, gave notice today that if Smith's motion asking the House to adopt the report of the Parnell Commission, with Lewis's amendment concerning the Parnellites, was carried, he would move a resolution declaring that the House deplores the fact that it appears at the time the Parnellites engaged in the alleged treasonable conspiracies, many members of the Government, especially Salisbury and Balfour, were in close alliance and treaty with those members, and therefore Salisbury and other members of the Government deserve the severest condemnation.

YOUNG LINCOLN.

His Physicians Almost Hopeless of His Recovery.

London, Feb. 25.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Young Abraham Lincoln is now tonight. His breathing is very heavy. He is in great pain, and has occasional convulsions. A number of workmen's clubs and Radical and Socialist associations will hold a demonstration in Hyde Park March 9th in favor of the prisoners now in exile in Siberia.

THE DUK OF ORLEANS.

Paris, Feb. 25.—The Duc d'Orleans last night was removed from Conciergerie to the prison at Clairvaux, and is treated as a political prisoner. The list of persons permitted to visit him has been curtailed. In the vote in the Deputies on proposed amnesty, 190 Republicans, the whole majority, voted against the government. Deshayes exclaimed that the government had been saved by the Right.

John Brown's Family.

In addition to the subscriptions of $5.50 reported in the Inter-Ocean Thursday for the benefit of the survivors of the family of John Brown, $10 has been received from H. C. Buttrick of Foster's, O., and Jonathan W. Plummer reports subscriptions amounting to $50, making a total of $65.50. These subscriptions have been made in response to an appeal from H. N. Rust of South Pasadena, Cal. The remnant of the family of the old hero of Harper's Ferry, consisting of a daughter and her husband, reside at that place. They are old and feeble and very poor. They are good, honest people, but have divided what they had in property with others, and now in old age are in want. In memory of John Brown, whose "soul," says the song, "goes marching on," Mr. Rust appeals to the public to put them beyond want.—[Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

UNIVERSITY PLACE

The Oxford League—Other Church Notes—College Items.

UNIVERSITY, Feb. 25.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The usual Sunday evening sermon was omitted at University Church last Sunday, to give place to a public meeting in the interest of the Oxford League. Addresses were made by Mrs. Wheeler, chairman of the literary department; by Mr. Holler, chairman of the devotional department, and by the pastor, after which names were solicited for membership in the new organization. Mrs. Wheeler is about to organize a class for regular reading in her department. Such a movement as this among the young people must command the approval of all who wish to see the future of our country bright.

Next Friday evening the Sunday-school is to have a peculiar kind of "pound party," at the church. Each lady is expected to furnish a basket containing lunch for two, and each gentleman is expected to buy a basket and eat its contents with the lady who prepared it. The price of each basket is to be a quarter of as many cents as its donor weighs in pounds. As no gentleman is supposed to know whose basket he is buying, much amusement will be the result. The proceeds are to be devoted to the purchase of Sunday-school singing books.

Another "bee" for improving the church grounds is announced for Friday.

Rev. Selah W. Brown has just returned from a week's lecturing tour. He visited San Jacinto, Colton, San Bernardino, Redondo and other places. Last Thursday evening Professor and Mrs. Bovard entertained the senior class of the college.

The college spirit on Saturday last seemed to have no limit, the music (?) being kept up to a late hour. It is hoped that the new departure in the way of field contests has stimulated a genuine, healthy student life. The unfinished games of the series begun on Saturday will be finished next Saturday. The program includes three match games of tennis and the remainder of the base-ball game. There is some prospect that a second match game with an outside team will be played in the afternoon. There is also a movement to get up an old-fashioned spelling-match in the evening.

By the way, since the college has no gymnasium, why shouldn't the students devote a part of every Saturday to out-of-door sport, and thus supply, in part, the lack of systematic training?

The pay of privates was made $13 a month at the very beginning of the war. In 1894 it was raised to $16 a month. Privates in the regular army today receive at first $13 a month, gradually increased to $16.
